

Chew Toy Training

Dogs need jobs, so making them work for their food keeps their jaws exercised and their mind engaged – which helps keep them safe, happy and out of trouble. Chew toys should be safe, appealing, and virtually indestructible. Many chew toys can be stuffed with dog food or healthy treats to increase their appeal.

Check out the following toys:

Toy Name	Description	Manufacturer	Website
Buster Cube	Hard plastic cubes with inner maze. Slowly dispense kibble when rolled	Kruuse	www.bustercube.com
Chewber	Durable rubber frisbees designed for chewing, tossing and tugging	Chewber	www.chewber.com
Classic Kong Goodie Ship Treat Ball	Rubber toys with various hollow areas that can be stuffed with food	Kong Company	www.kongcompany.com
Nylabone	Synthetic and edible bone shaped chew toys	Nylabone	www.nylabone.com
Orka Ball Orka Jack	Pliable synthetic hollow toys that can be stuffed with treats	Petstages	www.petstages.com
TireBiter	Durable nylon tire-shaped chew toy that can be tossed, tugged, and stuffed with spreadable food	Mammoth Pet Products	www.mammothpet.com